Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path...

Psalm 119

Minister Musings...from Pastor Lisa

Our sweet cats think that we aren't eating enough. Almost every day they bring to the back door a plump little mole to contribute to the Martin supper table. I tell them, "Thank you" and, when they run inside for their own bowls of delicious feast, I pick the mole up by its tail and fling it as far into the field as I can.

We go through this routine at least five times a week. I read somewhere that when cats do this—present their pets with a food offering (we are their pets, after all, you know), they think that they are helping, because otherwise, we humans would starve to death. If they love us, it is their beholden duty to save us from starvation.

In the interconnected lives between humans and our beloved pets, I can't help but be grateful for this instinct of care and pity. I've heard people say that if they get a suitcase out to go on a trip, their dog or cat knows what's going on and they start behaving accordingly. Our cats get in the open suitcase that is on the bed. I know one person whose dog suddenly comes down with a limp when his pet drags the large duffel bag from the closet.

Our pets need us as much as we need them. I think God planned it that way. Some of the best accountability I've seen in life is not between two humans, but between an animal and their human.

On Easter Sunday night, I dreamed that the church of Jesus Christ was made up of cats and dogs and their humans. Small churches, large churches, and every size church in between...cats, dogs, and humans. Contrary to what I expected to observe in this dream (total chaos, herding of cats - as the saying goes), there was care, and provision, and accountability.

Maybe, I thought (in my dream, though I've still thought about it afterward), when the church is at its Easter resurrection best, we DO care for each other, provide for each others' needs, and hold each other accountable for our faithful (or not so) response to the risen Christ's call in our lives.

That image is growing on me. Just please, don't bring me a mole.

Children's Easter Interpretation

We are blessed today to have our children share with us their interpretation of the Easter story! Many thanks to Jessica Jones, Nursery Care Provider, who does an excellent job at loving and teaching the Bible to our children. Today's play was written by Emma Saeler.

PW Circle Meetings

This month's Circles' Bible study, In Community with the Household of Faith, is based on passages from Hebrews, Numbers, James and Psalms. Hebrews 13: 1-6 instructs how to live together in faith, to unite us the author prays " God, who calls us to build a house of love and faith, help us to build it together with you and each other" Circle one and Circle two will meet, in the Church parlor, on Wednesday, April 11 at 1:30. We invite you to join us, as we learn together.

Recent Offerings

We have the most amazing congregation! Thanks to your generosity, our March 18 Blanket Sunday offering for Church World Service totaled $451. Our Easter One Great Hour of Sharing offering last Sunday totaled $360! Your faithful stewardship of the peoples of the earth is inspiring. Thank you!

Coming May 4!

Our Nearly World Famous PORK TENDERLOIN DINNER!

Plan now to come out and enjoy a great homecooked meal! We need helpers, too, so offer to jump in and roll up your sleeves! Contact John Coleman to help.

Marian French Honored

Congratulations to Ruling Elder Marian French, who recently was presented the Clower Award for Community Service by the Woodstock Rotary Club during its 93rd anniversary meeting last month.

Marian has been a champion for young people through her support of programs in Shenandoah County Schools and Future Farmers of America. She has served on the Valley Conservation Council, Citizens Advisory Committee and worked to preserve the old county courthouse.

The award, which singles out a local resident who has spent a lifetime in community service, honors the memory of Dr. Joe B. Clower Jr., a native of the area who was a local historian, author, and member of WPC.

Emmanuel Episcopal Installs New Rector

This Wednesday, April 11, our next door neighbor, Emmanuel Episcopal Church, will install The Rev. Kathleen Murry as Rector. Pastor Lisa will participate in the 6:30 pm service on behalf of the Woodstock Ministerial Association. Because of the crowd expected, the session extended an invitation for the use of our Fellowship Hall for the reception. Everyone is invited to this regal and important celebration of new ministry as we install Mother Kathy into ministry in Woodstock!

April Narthex Collection

We're collecting for Brown Bag Blessing during April. What we need: creamy peanut butter, spreadable jam or jelly, individual treats. Fill the shopping cart in the narthex, and help us help others!

News from PDA / Disaster Response Work Team

The next disaster response work trip will be May 19-26. Our 16th work trip since Katrina from Mountain Valley Mission Community and the WV Eastern Panhandle will return this year to Baton Rouge. We will work for Rebuilding Together Baton Rouge (RTBR) supported by the Presbytery of South Louisiana in partnership with Presbyterian Disaster Assistance (PDA). RTBR focuses on home repair for senior and disabled homeowners who have unmet needs from the wide-spread summer flooding. We will stay at University Presbyterian Church, a PDA volunteer host site. Please contact Dave Thalman if you are interested or have questions (dthalman@comcast.net).

Several from WPC have been on these PDA trips to the Gulf: Pastor Lisa, John Coleman, and Terry and Malinda Johnston. Ask us questions if you want to know about our experience!

Our Christian Sympathy is extended to John Coleman and family on the death of his bride, Carol, last Saturday. Her memorial service was held yesterday here at WPC. We give thanks to God for the wonderful ways that Carol loved and served the Lord through this congregation, especially the choir and her Children's Messages. She is greatly missed.

This is the message we have heard from him and declare to you: God is light; in him there is no darkness at all. If we claim to have fellowship with him and yet walk in the darkness, we lie and do not live out the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus, his Son, purifies us from all sin.

He is the atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not only for ours but also for the sins of the whole world. ~ ~ 1 John 1:2-2
